

WEEKEND at Wolf River Lodge

Friday, Nov. 6 to Sunday, Nov. 8, 2009

Mystery, espionage, intrigue and murder are on the menu at northern Wisconsin's Wolf River Lodge. After studying and analyzing the genre of murder mystery through literature, stage, radio and film, participate in a weekend re-enactment of a murder mystery set in the 1940s. Classes are held on the following Tuesdays: Sept. 29, Oct. 6, 13, and 27 and Nov. 3 (7 to 9:30 p.m.). An approximate fee of $230 includes transportation, lodging, breakfasts and one gourmet dinner. Tuition is extra. For more information, call Gil Pearson, (630) 942-2800, ext. 51342, or call the Field and Interdisciplinary Studies office at (630) 942-2356.
