

This is a warning sign to keep people off of native plants that are in the process of growing in the front of the SRC student parking lot.

CURB APPEAL

Flowers on campus color floral diversity

Photos and text by
Amanda Kellermann
Photo Editor

How much is too much curb appeal? Students around campus are taking shortcuts through planters or dodging water sprinklers. Though curb appeal does add atmosphere to certain areas of the college, many students do not have enough time to pay attention to the flowers.

Sedum, ornamental grasses and summer beauty are among a mix of flowers leading into the MAC.

A flower bed featuring autumn joys brightens the student parking lot in front of the BIC.

A student climbs over a rope that blocks off the native prairie plants near the MAC (Photo illustration).

Ornamental grass grows between the BIC and the MAC.