

FILM SHOWING

good night, and good luck.

Director: George Clooney
USA 2005; 93 min

In the 1950's, Edward R. Murrow questioned the tactics used by Senator Joseph McCarthy to explore communistic factions within the government. The film addresses the responsibility of the news media to objectively pursue the truth despite pressures from the corporate sectors and other interest groups.

This is an event in preparation for the upcoming College Lecture Series with Helen Thomas on Thursday, April 5, 2007.

Thursday

March 29, 2007

AC 153     7 pm

A discussion following the film will be led by Prof. Susan Harris-Mitchell, COD Professor of Psychology.

Space is limited. First come, first served.

Sponsored by the College Lecture Series Committee and Phi Theta Kappa.

For information call 630-942-3079 or 630-942-2514.

For Americans with Disabilities Act accommodations, call (630) 942-2141 (voice) or (630) 858-9692 (TDD).