OUTSTANDING GRADUATES

College of DuPage annually selects two outstanding graduates, sponsored by the College of DuPage Foundation. This year, Bonnie Bailey and Samuel Wilson will represent COD's student body at Commencement. Finalists for this year's honor are Vidhi Desai, Hisham Elseweifi, Amy Frese, Leah Gormaz, Jacqueline King-Tran and Angelina Kregg.

.....
BONNIE BAILEY put her college dreams on hold after getting married and having children. Nearly 25 years later, she made the decision to enroll at COD but struggled with the technology needed to be successful.

After dropping several classes out of frustration, Bailey found herself on academic probation. Instead of quitting, she pushed herself with newfound determination and began earning straight A's. She became a member of Phi Theta Kappa and received five scholarships through the COD Foundation.

Bailey continues to work part-time at the Inn at Water's Edge, the on-campus hotel that is also a learning lab for hospitality students. She also mentored adult students like herself. Off campus, she and her family have hosted Navy sailors from the Naval Station Great Lakes during the holidays.

After earning her Associate in Applied Science degree in Hospitality Management, Bailey plans to study business administration and entrepreneurship at Johnson & Wales University. Her goal is to open a bed and breakfast.

COD has been a second home for SAMUEL WILSON, who enjoyed classes through the Kids on Campus and Teens on Campus programs. A Presidential Scholar, he decided to study accounting and took advantage of the many opportunities offered to students.

His involvement included serving as president of the Accounting Club and spending two years with the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance Program, which provides free tax preparation for community members. In addition, he was an Honors Scholar and the lead organizer of the Chess Club, where he showed students how the game can develop career-ready abilities.

During the past year, Wilson participated in the Career Ready Scholar Program offered through the Career Services Center. Off campus, he worked as a math tutor at Mathnasium.

Wilson is graduating with an Associate in Arts degree and has been accepted into the prestigious Gies School of Business at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, where he will pursue a bachelor's degree in accountancy.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The colors and costumes of the commencement ceremony of today date from the 12th and 13th centuries, when universities first began to take shape. Long cloaks or gowns, worn by clerks studying in holy orders, were probably needed for warmth in the drafty, unheated halls. The hood, originally part of the medieval cowl, could be pulled forward or thrown back according to weather conditions. The distinctive gown also served to set the student apart from the rest of the townspeople.

As late as the beginning of the 20th century, students at most American colleges were still required to wear caps and gowns daily while in residence. Academic dress is now reserved for special occasions, such as the ceremony this evening, and serves to remind us of our educational heritage.

English and European universities developed extremely varied, often richly embroidered, academic vestments. Seeking to avoid the complexity and confusion of other academic ceremonies, American educators adopted a uniform code of dress in 1895. Accordingly, a special style of robe is prescribed for each of the three basic academic degrees.

The baccalaureate, or bachelor's degree, gown is primarily distinguished by long, pointed sleeves and lack of adornment.

The master's degree gown has oblong sleeves that are cut out at the bottom of the front.

The doctorate's gown is distinguished by full, bell-shaped sleeves with three velvet bars on the upper arm and velvet panels down the front.

The hood is the most outstanding feature of the American academic regalia. The length and shape of the hood indicate the degree that is granted, the lining displays the official colors of the university, and the velvet trim indicates the field of study. Some of the common colors representing academic disciplines are:

APRICOT .....	NURSING
BLUE VIOLET .....	ARCHITECTURE
BROWN .....	FINE ARTS
COPPER .....	ECONOMICS
CRIMSON .....	JOURNALISM
DARK BLUE.....	PHILOSOPHY
DRAB.....	BUSINESS
GOLDEN YELLOW.....	SCIENCE
GREEN.....	MEDICINE
LEMON YELLOW.....	LIBRARY SCIENCE
ORANGE.....	ENGINEERING
PEACOCK BLUE.....	PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION
PINK .....	MUSIC
POWDER BLUE .....	EDUCATION
PURPLE .....	LAW
SCARLET .....	THEOLOGY
WHITE.....	ARTS AND LETTERS

The mortar board cap is the Oxford style. Except for the gold tassels for Ph.D.s, the colors of the tassels represent the academic disciplines in which the degree has been granted. Faculty members will be wearing academic dress representing the highest degree they have earned.
